Age: 49

Occupation: Salt Lake County Assistant Tax Administrator

Residence: Salt Lake City

Years at residence: 30 years

Qualifications: Liz has worked closely with the Assessor's Office for more than 16 years as administrator of the Salt Lake County Board of Equalization. She is an experienced hands-on manager and is motivated to provide progressive leadership and innovative improvements which she has witnessed are currently lacking in the Assessor's Office. With a Masters of Public Administration degree and an appraisal license, Liz has the expertise to effectively transition the office into the new integrated Tax Administration System slated for implementation next year and to return the office to its previous bellwether status in the ad valorem appraisal industry. More importantly, Liz has the desire to manage and direct office operations. There is a need to fill current technology voids and to provide more training and resources to office employees to help offset the current inexperienced staff, to implement greater efficiencies in procedures and operations, and to ultimately ensure more accurate assessments.
